The Halls Of Foreman

It is said that the teen-age years are the happiest and most carefree of all. During these years our lives center around our school and the friends we meet there. As we grow older we break away from the school's influence, but its guidance in our relationships with others remains with us.

Our high school shows us, through the competition we find in it, that we must think for ourselves, and contribute something constructive if we wish to make our mark in the world.

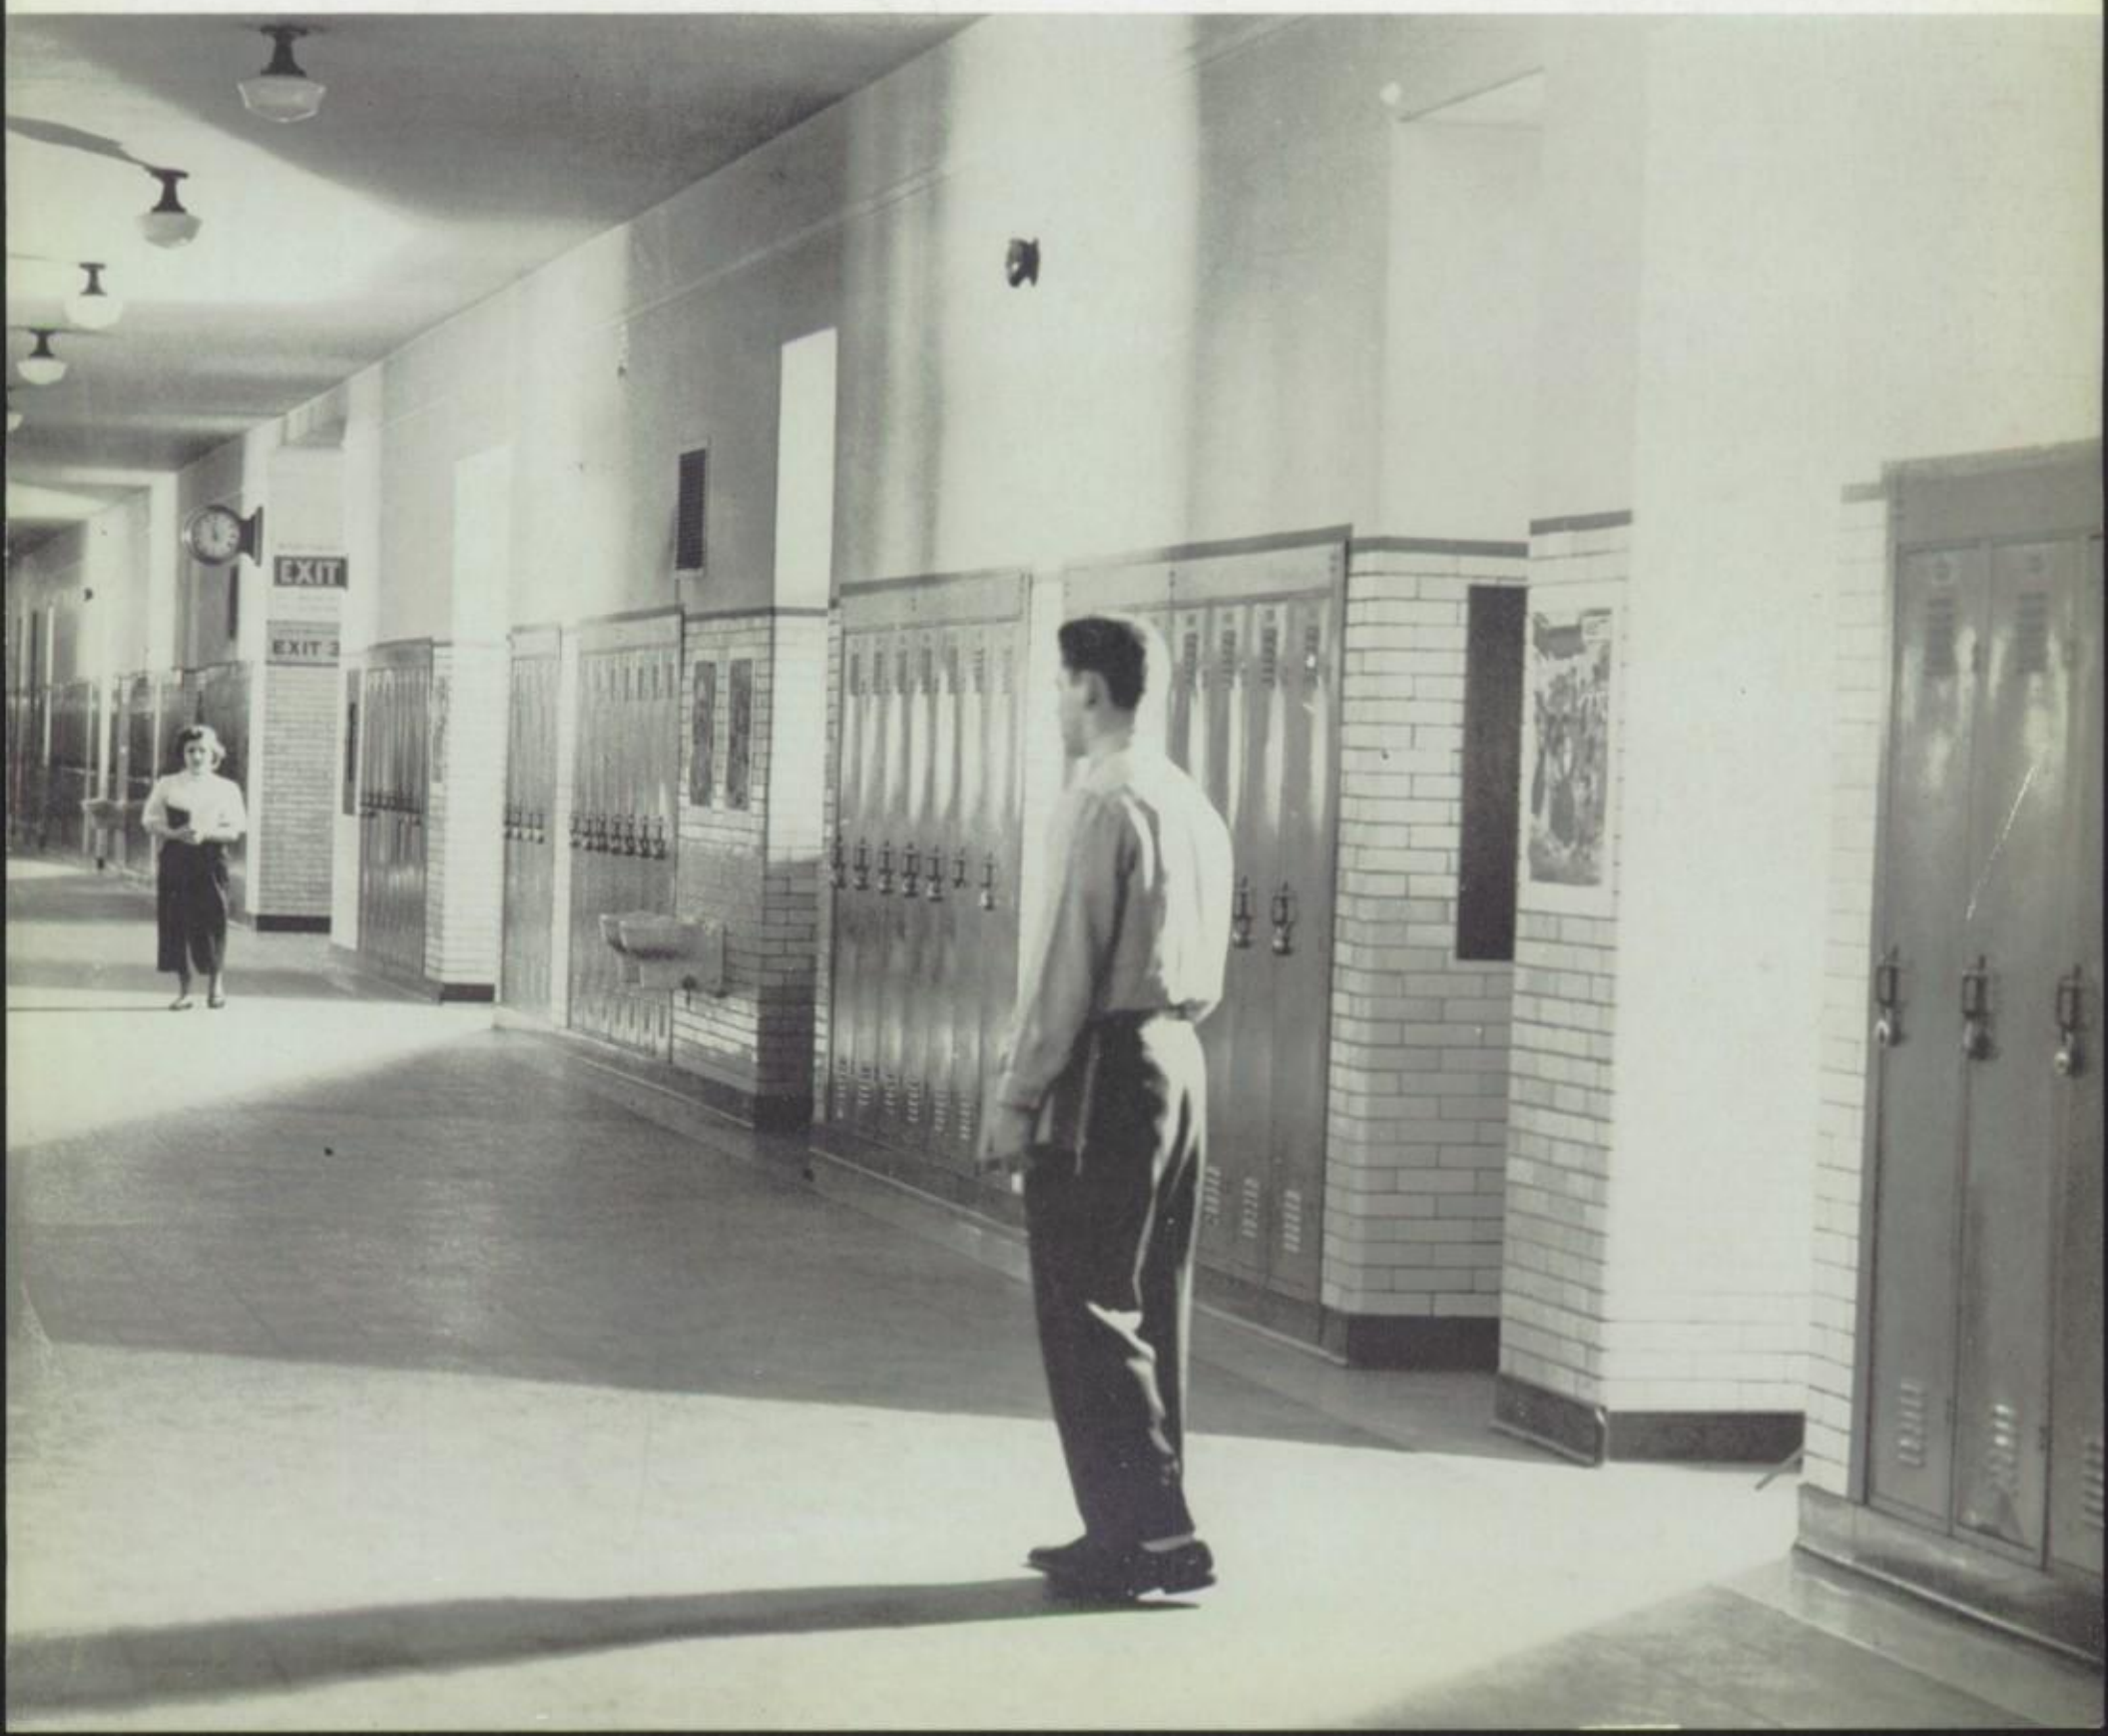
It gives us the most important part of our education at the most impressionable period of our lives. Here our characters are molded, and we are set on the road to being good citizens. We are confident that making its students good citizens is the main objective of Foreman's positive guidance.

During our career at Foreman we have walked through its halls innumerable times. They have led us to our class rooms, in which our thirst for knowledge has been not quenched, but stimulated. In them we have made friendships which will last through our entire lives.

When we first entered the school the halls seemed strange to us, but as our familiarity with what we found in and about them increased, we developed a deep sense of pride and affection towards Foreman.

We can now look back upon countless hours of fun as well as learning, pride as well as disappointment, with a feeling of regret that they must come to an end.

It is a sad day in our lives when we realize that it is time to say farewell to the Halls of Foreman, but this sadness is tempered by eager willingness to live the adventurous days that lie ahead.



Dear Foremanites:

Though it has been my privilege to be with you for but a short time, I assure you that every hour has been a joy and an inspiration. Since my first day at Foreman I have been impressed by the excellent spirit which prevails in the school. There is a friendliness between teachers and students which bespeaks a wholesome educational relationship—a relationship symbolic of the fact that though learning involves hard work and effort, it can be enjoyable if people of good will are working at it together.

It is my fond hope that each time you look through this book it will serve both to bring back pleasant memories, and to give you encouragement to face the future secure in the knowledge that your diligence at Foreman has prepared you well.

Sincerely,

George W. Connelly

Principal

Dr. Eileen Stack

Foreman has risen to a position of leadership among the Chicago high schools. It has not reached its present position by chance, however. On the contrary, a great deal of effort has been expended in the task of placing Foreman, small as it is, on an equal basis with the largest schools in the city. There is no doubt that our former principal, Dr. Eileen C. Stack, has been responsible for the success of Foreman. Ceaseless pride in her school and the ability to understand the individual problems of all Foremanites have made Dr. Stack a distinguished leader in the Chicago high schools.

An excellent illustration of her school spirit is the fact that the presence of Dr. Stack was familiar at every Foreman sporting event. Her inspiration and encouragement helped our 1953 baseball team bring to Foreman the Chicago City High School Baseball Championship.

The social center was another product of Dr. Stack's hard work and persistence. It was she who convinced the community that Foreman could support a social center. Foremanites have proven themselves worthy of her confidence by attending the center in large numbers.

We all wish Dr. Stack the best of luck wherever she may go, but it will be a long time before her memory fades from the Halls of Foreman.

Mr. Harry P. McHale, Assistant Principal

Mr. Harry P. McHale, our co-operative assistant principal, is a familiar sight in the Halls of Foreman. Though his duties are numerous and his time is limited, he has always done his utmost to advise and help the students of our school. In addition, many school activities receive his constant attention. Our Social Center is the product of many talents, in which the diligent leadership of Mr. McHale has been indispensable. Because of his capability, Mr. McHale is both a valuable and respected member of the Foreman faculty.

PROGRESS THROUGH EDUCATION . . . The Foreman Parent-Teacher Association celebrated its 25th Anniversary in February. The objects of this organization are to promote the welfare of youth in the home, school, and community.

With this aim in mind, a program with its theme "Opportunities for Tomorrow's Leaders" was planned and presented to the parents, informing them of the opportunities for youth through books, spiritual guidance, art, social activities, and health education.

Special activities included a Christmas luncheon for the faculty, a Christmas Sale, Annual Sweet Day, a luncheon at the Kungsholm, and a square dance featuring a box lunch.

The officers were: President, Mrs. H. G. Dubberke; First Vice-President, Mrs. Jack Pledger; Second Vice-President, Mrs. E. C. Boortz; Third Vice-President, Dr. Eileen C. Stack; Recording Secretary, Mrs. A. G. Wischmann; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Fred G. Menig; Treasurer, Mrs. G. F. Glave; Auditor, Mrs. F. O. Ottosen.

Minutes Fly

BELOW

TYPING . . . Concentration is the theme as fingers fly over the keys. While these girls type their daily lesson, eyes are hypnotized and fingers are active. Here students learn the rudiments of correct typing as they enjoy constant practice.

OPPOSITE PAGE

LIBRARY . . . Here students assemble to benefit by the reference books of one of the best equipped libraries in Chicago's schools. Many worthwhile hours spent in the Foreman library have provided a solid foundation for a thorough education.

CHEMISTRY . . . Chemistry is essential for students planning a career in engineering, medicine, or nursing. The course includes lecture periods and time spent in the lab gaining practical experience. The students learn the properties of different chemicals and what reactions they should look for when various elements are combined.

BIOLOGY . . . Because biology is an elective, each student in this class is vitally interested in life and its processes. Here, Henry Kulik and Diane Bartels are comparing fruit dissections.

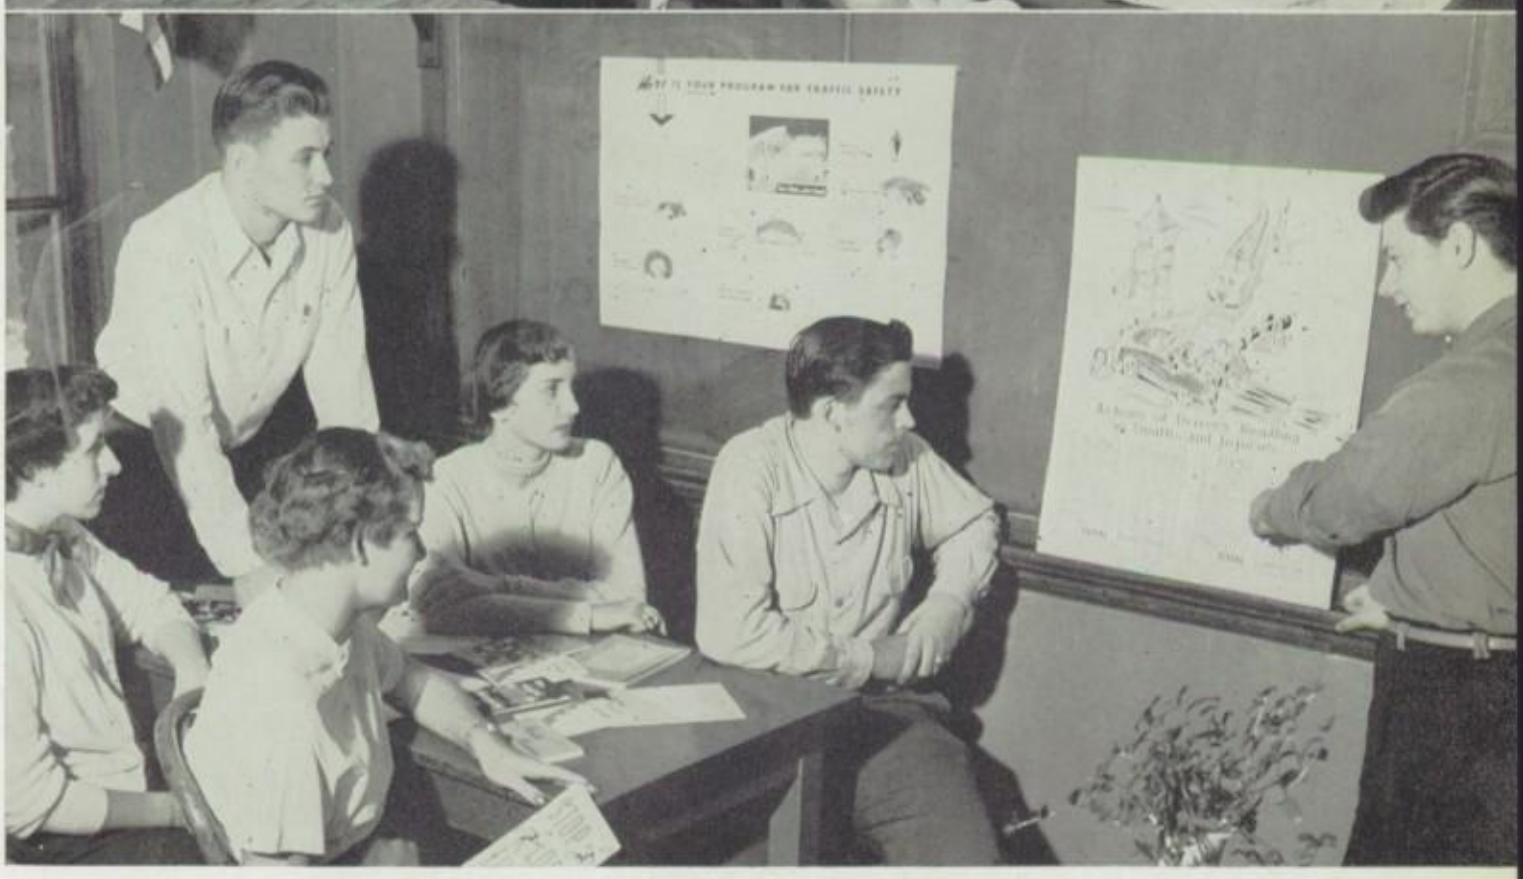
INDUSTRIAL ARTS . . . The fact that safety is predominant among the rules of manual training is seen in practice here. Through this boy's personal vigilance and the machinery equipped with protective devices in our Foreman shops, good safety procedures are attained.

RIGHT

HOME MANAGEMENT . . . Everyone is aware of homes which seem to run like clock-work. The house is always tidy, and meals are on time, but yet the housewife never seems to be overworked and has ample time for outside activities. Her secret is good home management. Our girls strive to attain this goal by diligent study of money management, home hygiene, personality growth and family relationships, for they feel the business of the home is the greatest business in the world.

Germany

GIRL'S GYM . . . Skill in sports is only a portion of the girls' physical education department's program. Important in later life is the good sportsmanship and sense of fair play gained through participating in games during gym. Of equal importance is the knowledge of mental and physical hygiene acquired in the health classes.



CIVICS . . . Courtesy on the road, by both driver and pedestrian, is the subject of this civics class. Emily Zographos, Rudy Dochtermann, Carolyn Cooper, Marilyn Petersen, Ronald Puchi, and Ted Furnett are studying the fundamentals of safety and learning new and old ways to curb the mounting number of accidents on our streets and highways.

Never A Dull Moment . . .

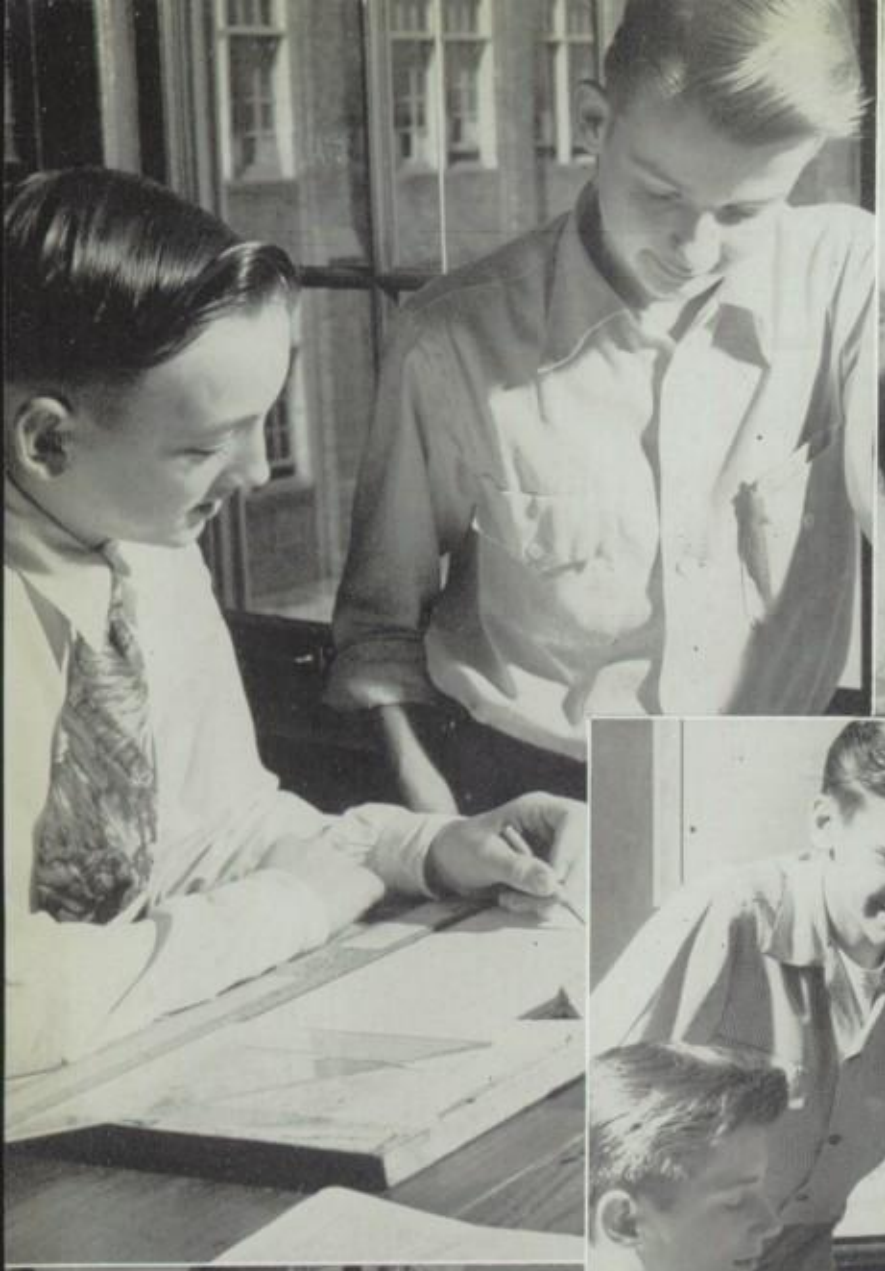
OPPOSITE PAGE

GERMAN . . . Leroy Landauer, Delores Kandler, Jeanne Stanits and Richard Krautsack find it interesting to gain knowledge of Germany and its language, because this information affords a good understanding of a country which has contributed so much to America's population and many of its customs.

BAND . . . Low, full melodious tones fill the room as a drum roll accompanies and lends its beat. James Descourouez, Bill Martino and John Hendersen reflect the musical mood that constant practise and individual perseverance attain.

ENGLISH 7 CLASS . . . The English 7 classes make a general survey of English literature with the emphasis on poetry and modern novels. The students also enjoy writing several themes and essays. Janet Spriggs, Jeannette Ottosen and Richard Spencer know that good English usage helps to lay a firm foundation for the future. For this reason we see them diligently studying grammar.

GEOGRAPHY . . . Here we see four geography students: Christian Thudium, June Kaczmarek, John Fiduccia, and Lee Van Der Hulst who have just found Alaska during a lesson in locating the far-flung possessions of the United States. The rapt attention paid by the group embodies the great interest which the members have in the study of "Terra Firma." Under the expert tutelage of Mrs. Agnes Anderson, students gain a wealth of geographic knowledge concerning the physical and economic features of our neighboring countries and those across the oceans.



All In A Day's Work

MECHANICAL DRAWING . . . Mechanical Drawing is one of the most intriguing subjects offered at Foreman. A very useful course, it teaches the boys how to draw and print, not only in accurate detail, but neatly. Boys who plan to study engineering find it an excellent foundation for this profession, and its dealings with everyday tools and familiar objects make it profitable to all.

ART . . . The art department develops the talents of artistically inclined students. These abilities are developed by teaching them the proper use of color and eye-appealing designs. The art department, however, is no longer just concerned with drawing but has also taken up ceramics and jewelry making.

Shown sketching model Sharon Kolder are Geraldine Huizinga, Gloria Sprarzo, Ludwig Dochtermann, Diane Jacobsen and Margie Clausen.

MATHEMATICS . . . With the ever growing three-dimensional world about us, the solid geometry models and mathematical instruments prove to be an aid to Richard Beck, Joyce Mehrtens, Elaine Block, Richard Dendler, and all other math students. The trigonometry charts, slide rule, and astronomy charts provide for a complete education in this ingenious science.

SPANISH . . . Study of a foreign language is essential for an extensive education and for entrance to most colleges. A popular choice of language at Foreman is Spanish. The course is not confined to translating and vocabulary study alone, but the student also gets a picture of the life and customs of Spain and Mexico.

FOODS CLASSES . . . In the food and nutrition classes, the artistic preparation of food is one of the many objectives. Great care is taken to cook the food properly and present it with attractiveness and eye appeal. To do this more capably, each girl is equipped with the basic nutritional knowledge, under the direction of Mrs. Racic and Mrs. Sipchen.

Here, Imelda Bednarski and Margo Loewe are viewing the results of their study and practice.

BELOW

CAREERS . . . With an eye to the future, every teenager is interested in his vocation. The course in Careers and Self-Appraisal is designed to help a student find a vocation which suits his personal abilities. A series of guidance tests are given and when the semester comes to an end, one sees his goal more clearly.

CLERICAL . . . Aided by the finest of office machines and clerical "know-how," the high standards of the business world are being met by these junior executives of Foreman High School. Diligent practice is giving them the needed confidence and ability for their future careers.

As We Part

As years go by,
We'll always think of that day,
When, with diploma in hand
We bade our friends farewell.
Tho' time shall pass,
No other years will hold such lasting memories.
As we leave these Halls of Foreman,
Fame and Fortune may come our way,
But those days, hours, and minutes
Shall never be forgotten.
We have a place in Foreman's heart,
As Foreman has a place in ours.

Presentation Of Pictures

Monday, April 19, was one of the most eventful days in the history of Foreman High School. On this day Mrs. Leigh Block presented Foreman High with eleven framed reproductions of famous paintings. This generous gift was formally accepted in behalf of the school by Delores Kandler. These colorful paintings will add cheer and brightness to the classrooms and corridors of our school.

Foreman was also honored by the presence of such distinguished guests as Mrs. Edwin G. Foreman, Sr.; Mrs. Solomon B. Smith, President of the Chicago Public School Art Society; Dr. Benjamin C. Willis; General Superintendent of Schools; Mr. Harold Foreman, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin G. Foreman, Jr.; Mr. Harold Foreman; Dr. Thaddeus J. Lubera, Assistant Superintendent of Schools in charge of Secondary Education; and Mr. Matthew Fitzgerald, District Superintendent.

After the assembly program was over, the special guests were invited to a luncheon in the faculty dining room. This concluded the day's activities, of which we in the Halls of Foreman are extremely proud.

Freshmen . . . Threshold To Foreman Life

In the course of a normal school day, there arise certain problems of which the students must be informed. Also, it is essential that the students hear the bulletin, which briefs them on educational, athletic, and social activities at Foreman. For these reasons, a special period has been set aside to transact the business of school life. This division period, as it is called, performs another important duty. It helps the students to better know and appreciate one another, which often leads to the formation of life-long friendships.

The division period is well calculated to aid the students in the sometimes difficult job of growing up.

As the Seasons

Bring Their Appropriate Activities

To the Halls of Foreman,

The Chain of Friendship Widens.

With A Song In My Heart

THE CHOIRS AND GLEE CLUB . . . With each passing year, Foreman's choral department improves. The well-blended voices of these groups have added the finishing touch to many Foreman programs.

The Junior choir, under the direction of Miss Betty Fanelli, was established this year for the purpose of training pupils for more advanced work. The Senior Choir is directed by Mr. William Moseid.

The Art Of Expression

ORCHESTRA . . . The "strings" echo their haunting melodies throughout the school, lending pomp and dignity to graduation and other occasions. Foreman High School has just recently witnessed the debut of its orchestra under Mr. Robert Grubbe's expert direction. Individually and as a group the members are striving for symphonic perfection, general musical beauty being their yardstick.

We salute with pride the Foreman High School orchestra.

Journey Into Melody

BAND DEPARTMENT . . . Each member of the band manifests his love of music and appreciation of beautiful harmony and tone qualities by working diligently to attain richness and expression in each composition under Mr. Robert Grubbe's artistic baton. Mr. Grubbe has been the director and mainstay of the band, each individual drawing upon him for encouragement, praise, and constructive criticism to spur him on to greater heights. Each musician has studied earnestly and practiced constantly to perform in such outstanding exhibitions as the Spring Concert, the city wide competitive contest, and numerous other school functions.

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY . . . The National Honor Society is the fulfillment of a dream for many Foreman upper classmen. A high scholastic record, service to the school, a school letter, good character, and at least three elective offices are requirements to belong to this highly esteemed club.

The semi-annual awards assembly, presented by the National Honor Society, gives further recognition to those students who have shown outstanding achievement in both scholarship and extra-curricular activities.

Sponsored by Miss Cecilia Costello, the National Honor Society inspires students to gain initiative and to work toward success.

Because of illness, Christine Malik, President of the National Honor Society is not pictured.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY, SPRING SEMESTER . . . The National Honor Society, as its name indicates, is a nationally recognized organization composed of high school students who possess the necessary qualifications in scholarship, citizenship, leadership, and service.

In the absence of Miss Cecilia Costello, the Foreman chapter of the National Honor Society maintained its regular program during the spring semester under the sponsorship of Miss Virginia Cavoit. Meetings, which were carefully planned by the newly elected officers, were held once a month. The usual business part of each meeting was followed by a social period during which entertainment and discussions were presented. The activities of the semester were concluded with the induction of graduating members into the National Honor Society at the Senior Award Assembly.

Mark Of Distinction

The 4B and 4A Honor Club consists of students who are outstanding in scholarship, citizenship, service and character, Miss MacKay, the club's sponsor, has devoted much time to inspiring these young people to attain high scholarship, service, and interest in activities at Foreman. Time and effort were given to the progress of this group of young people, all of whom have such high hopes for success after graduation. Social and regular meetings are held which present an opportunity to the students to discuss their interests and ambitions regarding their future educational careers.

THE 3B-3A HONOR CLUB, sponsored by Mrs. Glory Racic, is composed of a group of serious and hard working students, who are outstanding in scholarship, service, leadership, and character traits. Members must have the following qualifications: a scholarship average of 3.1, an average of 1.5 in citizenship, and ten service points. A regular monthly meeting is held to discuss business and social matters. The club's main social event was a Christmas party carefully planned and enjoyed by all.

Second Milestone Toward Success

These students have had the good health and good fortune to be able to maintain high scholastic standards at Foreman. It isn't the easiest task in the world to do every assignment well so that at the end of the semester the reward will be an invitation to become a member of an organization whose purpose is school work first. In addition to high grades the honor students of the school are asked to give genuine service in some type of school activity which interests the students. This requirement aims to make honor students well rounded teen-agers.

FOREMANUAL STAFF . . . The Foremanual has always been an outstanding year book, and this year, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Gertrude Smith, the staff has worked hard to retain this reputation. The cooperation of all members was of great value in producing our book. Amid the pictures, write-ups, identifications, and hustle for deadline dates was the fun and enjoyment of seeing the work accomplished.

Early in the semester, the show case, shown in these pictures, displayed our Foremanuals from the first edition to the present one. The '54 Foremanual is presented with pride and will be added to this collection.

School life in the Halls of Foreman has been pictured in true perspective. As you look through your book, the staff sincerely hopes you will enjoy remembering this past year.

Headlines, By-lines and Deadlines

THE FOREMAN NEWS . . . The Foreman News is a bi-weekly publication of the up-to-the- minute events of our school. It includes sports, social life, and the individual student and faculty activities. The paper is published by a group of students who have studied Journalism for one semester. Their news room in 123 is an exciting place, for it is the scene of continuous activity.

Above, we see the Co-Editors-In-Chief Sandra Viernow and Anne Sommer with other staff members checking the copy that will form the next issue of the newspaper.

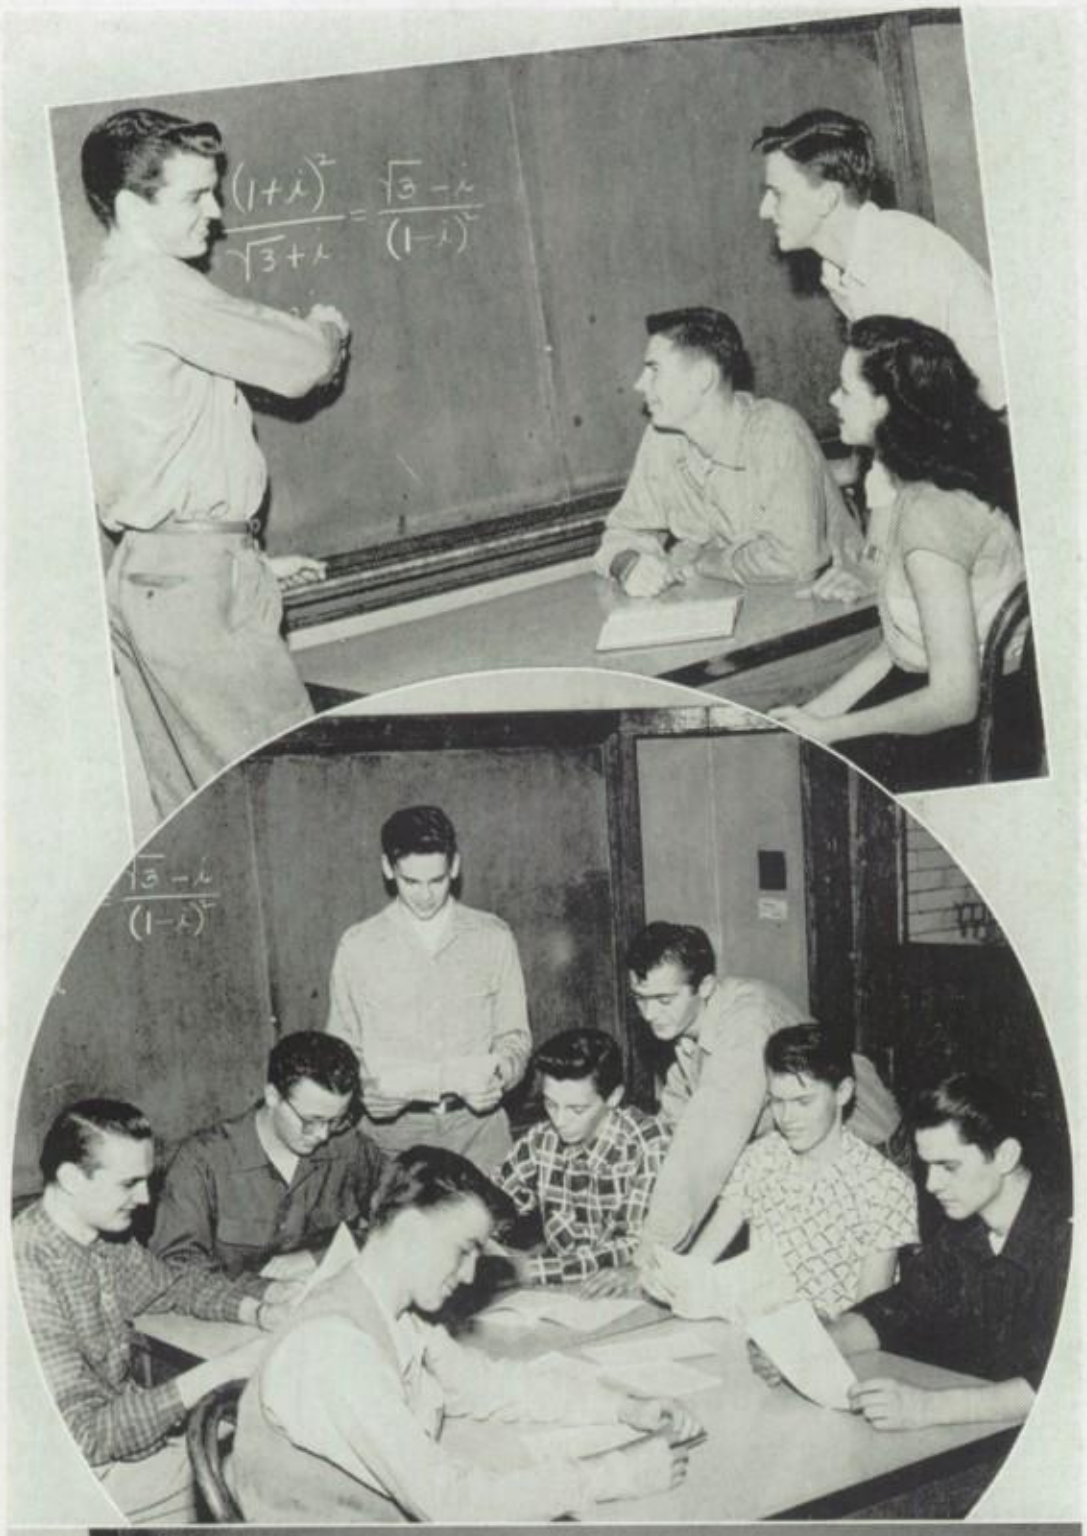
SPANISH CLUB . . . The Spanish Club consists of students especially interested in the various aspects of Spanish culture. The primary purpose of the club is to acquaint students with a better understanding of Spanish speaking peoples, their dress, and customs. The sponsor, Miss Georgia Adamson, and club members enjoy playing games and singing songs at their meetings.

LATIN CLUB . . . The Latin Club, or Societas Latina, was christened nineteen years ago. The club features games, contests, songs, and plays, which are enjoyed by all members. The activities are planned by student committees. Being on the entertainment committee at least once every semester gives each club member a chance to show his ingenuity and originality. Even those who have a talent for preparing and serving food may show their ability when the time for club parties arrives. It is then that the club members enjoy a variety of food much like that which tempted the palates of the ancient Romans.

Preparing To Solve Life's Equations



MATH REVIEW CLUB . . . One of the more recently organized clubs at Foreman, the Math Review Club, serves a dual purpose. It is a refresher course for some students and a general survey of higher mathematics for other students not actively engaged in math courses at the present time.

The club's sponsor, Miss Laura Kinderman, administers various types of college entrance and scholarship examinations to determine the students' weak and strong points in mathematics, and also to prepare them for the actual examinations they will soon take for their personal college plans.

Active and Passive Enjoyment

GIRL CAMPERS CLUB . . . The Girl Campers Club is a newly organized group, the purpose of which is to present opportunities for girls to increase their camping knowledge. How to raise a tent and cook tantalizing food in the open air are but a few know-how aids given to the campers. Many of the girls are aspiring to be camp counselors and receive excellent guidance material from their able director, Miss Friedman.

MAGAZINE CLUB . . . Students who like to read magazines find ample opportunity to do so in the Magazine Exchange Club. They bring their own magazines on club days, often trading them with other club members. Many of the members take pride in bringing magazines of unusual interest or from foreign countries. Under the supervision of Mrs. L. Kuklin, discussions of the literary value of many current, interesting periodicals are held.

READING CLUB . . . The young members of this club have discovered the limitless wealth of pleasure that can be derived from a good book. They know that joy and adventure merely await the opening of a cover or the turning of a page. In addition, these students are learning how to receive the maximum amount of knowledge from any matter they choose to read.

BIOLOGY CLUB . . . The Young Biologists have very important objectives. The three most important of these aims are the broadening of their cultural background, the recognition and understanding of the functions of living matter, and assisting themselves in choosing a future vocation – the physicists, scientists, and doctors of tomorrow. Blood tests and dissections of animals have played their part in attaining this knowledge and have given these young men and women an insight into life itself.

Preparing For The Future

COLLEGE CLUB . . . Many Foreman students planning a college education enjoy the benefits offered by the College Club. Mrs. Luella Voelz counsels the club members, offering them recent information on tuition, entrance requirements, and courses offered. Sample entrance tests and scholarship examinations given by Mrs. Voelz give the students additional insight into what to expect in college.

JEWELRY CLUB . . . Some of the jewelry you saw in the showcase this year was the product of the Jewelry Club. The club was initiated in September by Mr. Gordon Markwart, who spends much of his own spare time making jewelry. Students made earrings, rings, and cuff links out of sterling silver, enamel, and copper. Much of the work of the club members was sold at the Christmas sale in December and made welcome Christmas gifts for some lucky people.

The Web Of Concentration

CROSSWORD PUZZLE CLUB . . . The Crossword Puzzle Club, sponsored by Mr. Francis B. Lane, is one of the many educational clubs at Foreman. Its members are able to increase their vocabularies and at the same time receive the benefits of a strenuous mental workout. In addition, the members of the club seem to enjoy themselves immensely during their informal bi-weekly meetings.

CHECKER CLUB . . . As preoccupied faces study the checker board intensely, "it's your move" echoes through the room. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Keating, congeniality has been the indirect objective.

Poised And Proper

PERSONALITY PLUS . . . Since the aim of every girl at Foreman is to be at her self-confident and poised best at all times, it is only natural that the Personality Plus Club was introduced last September. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Mary Bryskier, the girls exchange tips on manners, dating, etiquette, and developing pleasing personalities.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR CHECKER CLUB . . . The Junior-Senior Checker Club offers fun and a chance to participate in a game to all students who are members. This club gives everyone an opportunity to test his skill and knowledge of the fascinating game of checkers. This popular organization is sponsored by Miss Daniels.

2A CHECKER CLUB . . . The members of the 2A Checker Club sharpen their wits and become skilled at playing an intelligent game of checkers. It takes plenty of concentration and planning to beat some of our skilled players. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Minicker, the games prove to be thoroughly enjoyable.

"Yarns" Over Needles

KNITTING CLUB . . . The needles are busily clicking as whispers of "Oops! I dropped a stitch!" and exclamations of "Oh, isn't it beautiful!" echo throughout the room. As beginning knitters they were proficient only as needle holders, but under Miss Timko's guidance, their first stitches were knit; and through her patience and understanding, the intricate patterns and the language of knitting were mastered. This club has afforded each member a life time avocation.

INSTRUMENTALISTS . . . The Instrumentalists are a group of students educated in the technique of self-expression through the media of flats and sharps. Under Mr. Grubbe's guidance and expert direction, the members hold a jam session of a mild sort every two weeks. They demonstrate their techniques on the "bones, licorice sticks, and horns," and exchange information on the latest developments in the music world.

TALENT CLUB . . . This group of talented teens meets with Miss Fanelli each club period to further develop artistries and discover new abilities and skills. While gaining "show business" experience and pleasures of entertaining, they organize and produce variety shows for the school's enjoyment.

Salute To Service

The Student Council, under the direction of Miss Clara Lawin, is an enterprising group of students, deeply concerned with important school problems and activities. The members of the Council, during the past year, kept busy with management and sales of the Activity Pass, which entitled each student to two activities each semester. The past year the Fifth Army Band, a lecture and movie by M. J. Albrecht, and a concert pianist, Frederick Sjobairn, were presented. The promoting of charity collections, the filling of Red Cross boxes, and the sending of pocket books to our service men are also important undertakings of the Student Council.

Noontime Nutrition

FOREMAN'S LUNCHROOM . . . Perhaps the best liked period of the day is the lunch period. Each school day, during the fifth, sixth, and seventh periods, Foreman's hungry students invade the lunchroom.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Ruth Baur and her staff, our lunchroom offers wholesome food, attractive prices, and an unequaled happy atmosphere.

1B CHECKER CLUB . . . Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Clifford, the 1B Checker Club offers to all of its members the enjoyment of a sport with plenty of competition. Some of the players are quite professional, and it is fun to watch them as they keep an eye on every play.

This club not only provides enjoyment and relaxation, but it also teaches the players that it is not whether you win or lose, but how you played the game that counts. Some friendly competition without hard feelings makes this game much like the game of life, for we must be able to accept the defeats as well as the victories.

Equestrian Escapades

The members of this club looked forward to each meeting to learn more facts about the art of horseback riding.

Among the information that was gained by these future equestrians was how to mount, dismount, the correct posture for riding, and what to do when the horse balks or rears.

They learned the different types and breeds of horses. Miss Madden, the sponsor of the group, made the club very interesting, in the hope that as a result the members would become perfected and well-informed riders.

PROJECTOR CLUB . . . The Projector Club members are interested in learning how to operate all types and makes of projectors. Showing movies, slides, and filmstrips is part of their job.

They also take care of all equipment including its transportation around the building, minor repairs and replacements, film handling, and most important, the repair and splicing of broken film. For these duties school service points are given, which in time will lead to a school letter and possibly a chevron. Mrs. Jerome is the capable sponsor of this club.

PUBLIC ADDRESS CLUB . . . Boys interested in electronics find plenty of opportunity to learn more about this field and while doing so, serve their school. Under the able direction of Mr. Robert Itnyre, our public address club is always available if needed. Whenever a mike is requested for socials, assemblies, and other school activities, the members of the Public Address Club go to work.

Besides providing members with service points towards a school letter, the club gives them invaluable experience which may, someday, prove to be an asset when choosing a life time profession.

FIRST AID CLUB . . . As we all know, the ability to apply first aid properly can be extremely valuable. A pre-requisite for gaining a complete knowledge of this science is an instructor who thoroughly understands this field. Foreman students are fortunate in having the services of Dr. Walter Guse, the sponsor of the club. His medical background has proven invaluable in teaching the club members the correct method of bandaging cuts and abrasions, stopping excessive bleeding, and administering first aid to patients otherwise afflicted. Many members of this club have continued their first aid training by taking Red Cross courses to further their knowledge. They realize that this is a skill to be remembered through life and one which will be extremely useful to all.

GERMAN CLUB . . . The German Club, one of the oldest at Foreman, is largely a social club. In the first semester the chief activity is the Christmas tea for mothers of all students of German. In the second semester picnics are popular. At this time the members also plan excursions to various places where some phase of German culture is available.

At the regular club sessions, after business matters are taken care of, German games are played and German songs are sung.

LIBRARY CLUB . . . One of the service clubs of Foreman is the Library Club. The membership in this club is limited to library assistants. Miss Sophie Wolan, the sponsor, tackles a new project each semester. Last year the club compiled a book entitled Favorite Recipes of the Faculty. At the end of the semester it was distributed to the instructors, so that all might attempt the different culinary techniques described therein.

LIBRARY ASSISTANTS . . . The library assistants are of great value to Foreman High School. They keep the library neat and orderly and take care of books, magazines, and the cataloging of cards. They are also responsible for the stamping and checking of books which the students may take out and return each period during the school day.

CAT CLUB . . . A newly organized group this year was the Cat Club sponsored by Miss Vera Stern. Members devoted their time to exchanging stories and interesting personal experiences about their past and present pets. Magazine articles pertaining to the care and feeding of their furry friends were often read and discussed by the enthusiastic cat lovers. Another feature of this club was having the members take photographs of their various pets. Some of the girls had taken moving pictures which they brought to club meetings for the other members to enjoy. These movies proved to be very humorous and helpful. As a result of this club many of the girls have learned to take better care of their pets and are now able to enjoy them fully.

THE LETTERMEN'S CLUB . . . The Lettermen's Club is, perhaps, the most exclusive organization at Foreman High School. From the day many a freshman enters the school it is one of his fondest dreams to someday wear the coveted golden "F" on a Foreman sweater. For many this honor must always remain a dream, but for a select few it becomes a reality. In return for the honor of wearing an "F", the boys on the athletic teams continually strive to bring victory home to Foreman. If defeat comes instead, a victory emerges in the form of superior sportsmanship.

And Away We Go!

YOUNG TRAVELERS CLUB . . . Members of the Young Travelers Club, under the sponsorship of Miss Margaret Kennedy, take advantage of their excellent opportunity to see and learn about people of other lands. Numerous movies, a variety of magazines, and frequent discussions are the sources of knowledge which club members soon acquire. The Young Travelers Club not only is informative and brings much pleasure to its members, but its teaching may someday be of great value to certain members who have the good fortune to travel abroad.

TYPING QUEENS . . . The sound of clicking keys heard in the Halls of Foreman on club day can be traced to Miss Cooney's typing room. This club, which is officially called the Typing Queens, combines fun and learning, making it very appealing to any girl typing student. The members increase their knowledge of the typewriter and its uses and learn new methods and styles of writing letters. After the instruction there is always time for a game. A favorite with the club is drawing pictures with the typewriter. Besides perfecting individual typing knowledge and promoting a feeling of fellowship among the girls, the members feel the most important function of the club is giving each girl needed skill, which will later help her find profitable and interesting employment.

Psychologically Speaking . . .

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB . . . Solving the problems that enter the everyday lives of teenagers is the object of the Psychology Club. Miss Moore is the able director of this happy group. Active discussions take place at each meeting on subjects such as inferiority complexes and other emotional problems which the members would like to understand more fully.

When Coach Jack Maloff announced spring football practice last year, more than thirty boys came out for the 1953 team.

Several weeks of hard work at that time, followed by intensive drills in the fall, put the Hornets in condition to start the season with great hopes of being a real threat.

Although victories proved difficult to attain, the boys gave all they had to make Foreman proud of its team.

Several of the Seniors should be cited for outstanding leadership on the field. Among these should be included Walter Kenar, John Fiduccia, Vic Lee, Hank Gerenholdt, Ron Belke, Ray Caccamo, Dick Munda, Vito Colella, and Fred Ifkovits, who gave their all to make Foreman's team successful.

The Hornets' Sting

Though lean in victories, Foreman's 1953 football season was rich in sportsmanlike conduct and courage. Practice game losses to Kelvyn Park and Leyden, two big and rough teams, did not daunt our gridders' fighting spirit, but in league play the lack of experience proved our downfall. Close, hard-fought games with Lake View, the section champs, and Waller highlighted the league season.

The team, sparked by this year's most valuable player, Ralph Gunderson, played well against several overpowering teams and never lost the will to win.

Most of the boys will have graduated by the time next season rolls around, so Coach Maloff will again find it necessary to teach an inexperienced team to play winning football for Foreman.

BASKETBALL . . . In spite of the fact that Foreman's 1953-54 basketball team did not win a championship, it gave a great deal of trouble to the leaders in the West Section race.

The Hornets fought valiantly all season against some of Chicago's finest teams. Some outstanding games were the ones against Bowen, a South Section powerhouse; Lake View, which lost to Du Sable for the City Championship; and those with McKinley and Marshall, who fought it out for the section crown. Our boys led these last two for some time before finally being overwhelmed.

Many of the leaders of the varsity team will no longer be with us when next season rolls around, so the Hornets will depend on several boys who will move up from the Frosh-Soph team. Many of these younger boys have been playing together for several years, so Foreman's hopes in basketball for 1954-55 will rest on a firm, experienced foundation.

Quality, Not Quantity

BASKETBALL . . . This year Foreman had Chicago's most undermanned team, but the old adage "Quality, not Quantity" proved true. With only nine healthy players at the start of the season, the Hornets sailed along smoothly until the Illinois Tech Tourney, beating Lane, Weber, Holy Trinity, Senn, and Taft, and losing a thrilling, hard-fought game at Roosevelt, 38-37.

In I.I.T. Holiday Play we easily beat Amundsen in our first game but lost a close decision to Dunbar in our second. Just before league play began, the Hornets sparkplug, Ed Dick, was lost to the team for the remainder of the season through injuries.

Foreman's first league game, in which Tuley was routed by a 30 point margin, gave hope for a championship season; but the team, through bad breaks, had its ups and downs for the rest of the schedule. Highlights of the season included the defeat of Washburne and Kelvyn Park by wide margins.

Cinderella City Champs

BASEBALL 1953 . . . Foreman's great 1953 Cinderella team crowned both themselves and their school with glory by bringing home the City Championship.

Having made a clean sweep of their practice games, the boys moved into their league schedule and, after a hard-fought season, defeated Wells High School in the final game for the West Section Championship.

In the first two play-off games, the Hornets carved Harrison and Lindblom. Then, in 102-degree heat, they sent Vocational down to defeat, capturing Foreman's first City Championship.

Although many of the team's stars graduated at the close of the season, several of the first-stringers will be back for this year's campaign. These, along with the new talent coming out for the team, give the Hornets great hope to repeat as City Champions in 1954.

The boys on Foreman's 1954 baseball team have inherited the city championship, but only the most spirited play will allow them to keep their title. The team will miss many of last year's outstanding players who graduated in June and January. On the other hand, the team has maintained much of its former strength by the addition of many promising new players. The ball players themselves feel that whatever was lost in power can be made up in hustle. These boys will never relent until Foreman is the champ again in '54.

Starring Neptune's Daughters

Something new has been added to Foreman—water ballet. In January, an aquacade entitled "A Trip Around the World" was presented to the school. The costumes and music of many different countries, combined with perfected strokes, produced a colorful and successful performance. In June, the gay seasons and holidays were portrayed in the "Kalendar Kapers."

Miss Dorothy R. Claas, the very capable and understanding instructor of this group, greatly aided the girls as they strove for grace and skill in the water. As only a limited number of students are admitted to this group, tryouts for the Synchronized Swim Class are given each semester.

The responsibility for planning and preparing the successful activities of Foreman's Girls' Athletic Association falls upon twenty-five girls and their very capable director and advisor, Mrs. Louise Coorlas. The divisional G.A.A. representatives share part of the responsibility in the membership drive, which opens each semester.

The popularity of the Bowling Teams grows year by year because of the exercise and pleasant companionship they offer. Also contributing to the excitement of keen competition is Miss Dorothy Claas' Badminton Club. Just keeping their eye on the birdie enables the girls to win their bi-weekly tournaments.

Miss Evelyn Wandelt directs the cheerleading squad. Cheers are selected and perfected for the coming season at club meetings.

The Awards Assembly ends each semester with the G.A.A. by honoring the girls who have worked hard to earn their letters and chevrons through participation in sports, service to the G.A.A. and good health habits.

Alert, Efficient, And Sharpshooting

Miss Stack and the Cadet Staff

Our principal, Dr. Stack, confers with Instructor Sfc. George Baxter, Kenneth Kloss and Ronald Belke on Unit Activities. It is her wish to aid in any way possible to make our R.O.T.C. an even finer unit.

CLASSROOM INSTRUCTION . . . This class represents one of the courses in which R.O.T.C. students are taught. Cadets are instructed about individual weapons, squad, platoon, company and unit drill and our military chain of commands, as well as personal hygiene, military courtesy, and map reading.

RIFLE TEAM . . . The Rifle Team has stacked up four victories this season out of six matches competing against Schurz, Roosevelt, Kelvyn Park, Steinmetz, Von Steuben, and Taft High Schools.

Here the team members demonstrate the essential firing positions: sitting, kneeling, standing, and prone.

Variations In R.O.T.C. Activities

USHERS CLUB . . . Supervised by Sergeant George Baxter, this group of first and second year cadets handles the ticket taking and escorting of guests at our various school functions. These cadets have an excellent opportunity to earn their Extra Duty Bar as a reward for the many services rendered. We owe a sincere vote of thanks to this organization for their help.
